San Antonio Regional Hospital Receives the 2022 Women's Choice Award® as one of America's Best Hospitals for Cancer Care

Range of treatment services, low infection rates cited in award recognition

Upland, CA – March 16, 2022 – San Antonio Regional Hospital has been named one of America's Best Hospitals for Cancer Care by the Women's Choice Award®, America's trusted referral source for the best in healthcare. The award signifies that San Antonio Regional Hospital is in the top 8% of 4,728 U.S. hospitals offering cancer care services.

A hospital must be designated by the American College of Surgeons' Commission on Cancer Classification (ACS CoC) as one of four specific types of cancer programs to be considered for the award. The Women's Choice Award measures hospitals on the presence of specific cancer-related services offered onsite, infection rates and patient recommendation ratings on the Hospital Consumer Assessment of Healthcare Providers and Systems (HCAHPS) Survey. The award is unique in that criteria also include primary research about women's healthcare preferences.

"The very first step on a cancer journey is knowing where to go for the best care," said Delia Passi, founder and CEO of the Women's Choice Award and a breast cancer survivor. "We're empowering women to make confident decisions about the best hospital for cancer care for themselves and their loved ones. We help them make smart, informed choices during a stressful time."

Accreditation required for the award ensures that a hospital or facility offers a full range of diagnostic and treatment services, or provides integrated cancer care and comprehensive services.

Low infection rates compared to the national average are another important measure. Oncology patients are more susceptible than other patients to hospital-acquired infections because of their compromised immune systems.

Passi emphasized that San Antonio Regional Hospital and all 2022 America's Best Hospitals for Cancer Care deliver on the care that matters most to women. "In addition to our award winners' high-level performance on a national level, they provide the care that women value most, including easily accessible services onsite to avoid multiple trips for their treatment, which is so important to women faced with a cancer diagnosis," stated Passi.

San Antonio Regional Hospital is one of 400 award recipients representing the hospitals that have met the highest standards for cancer care in the U.S. by the Women's Choice Award.

"Together with City of Hope, San Antonio operates an onsite community cancer center," commented John Chapman, President and CEO of San Antonio Regional Hospital. "Our patients have access to oncology expertise and comprehensive cancer services close to home, which is so important for women and their families when going through a cancer diagnosis. To be ranked in the top 8% of cancer services nationwide by the Women's Choice organization is truly an honor."
